Detailed Report:

The student Training Program (STP) is the activity conducted in RMD Sinhgad School of Engineering. Under STP IV, i.e. Research Methodology was taught by Dr. Snehal Bhosale, HOD E&Tc Department and Institute STP coordinator.

Under Research Methodology, students are made aware about research, types of research, how to do literature review, information about plagiarism check, technical paper writing, etc. Research methodology is the specific procedures or techniques used to identify, select, process, and analyze information about a topic.

Key Elements of Methodology Section of a Research Paper

- Logic of Inquiry (Qualitative or Quantitative)
- Research Setting and participants
- Methods and Procedure of Data Collection
- Methods and Procedure of Data Analysis
- Ethical Issues

In a research paper, the methodology section allows the reader to critically evaluate a study's overall validity and reliability. All the sessions were successfully completed.
